And there was a time no one ever thought they would see a baseball game played under electric light, and certainly no one ever gave a thought that the time would come when bean harvests would be conducted under the glare of electricity, but it is being done in Orange county. And it is busy crews which are rushing the beans through the thresher in order to get them out of the field and into the warehouse before the rainy season arrives. High fog have delayed morning operations, so the lost time must be recovered and electricity is overcoming the interruption. Remember away back when locomotives were equipped with a flickering kerosene headlight? It's different now. Why we have so much illumination these days that almost everything and everybody is lit up.

Screaming headlines three inches high on the newspaper today proclaimed the Main Drive-In market at Main and Chestnuts streets "unfair." The "paper pickets" also wore on their arms emblems of union affiliation.

The special issue of the Labor News was an "extra" edition, printed solely for use by the "paper pickets." Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard and City Attorney Lew Blodget said they would confer today to determine if this new move places the "newsboys" definitely in the category of official union pickets. If it is determined that they are actually paper pickets, it is possible that the city's anti-loitering ordinance may be invoked.

THIRD MARKET

The situation grew more tense today as the union placed "paper pickets" before Negrete's market at 804 East Fourth street. This makes three markets now being patrolled by union men. The Main Drive-In and Slater's market at South Main and Oxford streets are the other two. The Labor News statement, signed by Steve Davidson, business representative of the meatcutters, said "also to appear before the Orange County Central Labor Council to show cause why their cooperation cannot be depended upon are Slater's market, and Model market, 438 South Main street. Failure to show cause will automatically add these markets to the official unfair list of organized labor."

I was always under the impression that football was played on the field. Now it is played any old place. Pranksters put the score of the game between New York university and Carnegie Tech over the $6,000,000 Mellon Institute of Industrial Relations. Scientific minds are now trying to discover some way to efface the letters. Recently a few of our own football enthusiasts defaced some property at Whittier. I am in sympathy with youth until its emotions carry it beyond the point of common sense and proper respect for the rights of others. In my day dads would have had their sons out in the woodshed for such infractions of property rights.

Hallowe'en, Oct. 31. Just to refresh your memory that you got a bad night coming.

Met a fellow yesterday who was leveling off a piece of ground on which he intended to grow alfalfa so he could feed a cow which would give some milk to keep the baby alive. Another case of one good turn deserving another.

Neighbor discourages dandelion digging. Says they grow faster than you can dig 'em out. If you dig out six in the morning there is a dozen in the evening to take their place. He has me convinced. But if you have a lawn you must at least appear to have some interest in it, even if it is a losing game. Knew a fellow one time who got so mad at the dandelions he made wine out of them, drank the wine, and then insisted that he had the problem solved. About that time the patrolman called for him. A neighbor reported he was acting queer. Dandelions will make anyone queer if you associate with them long enough.

When people reach an advanced age they are said to be living on borrowed time, but it has been my observation that the banker has often contributed substantially to their longevity.

If the bean industry is a part of your investments you will get a healthy financial impulse about the fifteenth of October when a 3 cents per pound distribution will be made on the 1937 crop. Beans are just one more of Orange county's diversified product which keeps a steady flow of outside money coming into the business stream. Even if you are not a bean grower you will profit by the investment. It's a poor crop which does not do somebody good.

The Breakfast club hopes to take the grief out of the Broadway street improvement and dedicate it with appropriate exercises when the contractors turn it over to the city. They want to hold a breakfast in the evening, if you can wait that long. You can overcome the handicap by calling your breakfast dinner on that day, and your dinner breakfast. Woman Battles 'Mystery Man'

A shadowy form lurking in the darkness of an alley just off South Main street bore down on pretty Mrs. Dorothy Wellman early today. The woman, who had just closed her garage door after putting up her car, turned a terror-stricken face toward the intruder and gasped in fright. Then she was frozen in her tracks by a masculine voice.

"Where are you going, Babe?" "I don't think that concerns you!" she retorted, icily.

"Oh, don't be like that," he countered.

At the same time he moved closer. His arm shot out and he grabbed Mrs. Wellman about the waist.

The beautiful blonde woman cried out in a piercing shriek and grappled with her attacker. For a moment they fought in silence, then both fell to the pavement.

Mrs. Wellman's purse fell from her hand. She lost her grip on the man. Apparently frightened by her screams, he grabbed the purse and jumped to his feet. Before she could stop him, he raced to the end of the alley and sped east on Pine street.

Mrs. Wellman, who lives at 217 South Main street, reported her terrifying experience to the police, and today told The Journal her own story of the attack.

She had seen the man as she drove into the garage, she said, but thought he was just a wandering drunk, and paid no more attention to him. After she had closed the garage doors and he spoke to her, however, she realized he was not intoxicated.

He spoke in a modulated, southern voice, she explained. He was dark and handsome.

I'll Tell You By BOB BURNS

One reason why doctors advise nervous people to travel is because they know that when they go away and see different things, they observe more closely and it takes their minds off their own troubles.

My A. T. Puney was a very nervous woman and she never did have much patience with Uncle Hink, but finally she got so bad, Uncle Hink took her away on a vacation to the sea-shore.

The first night they got there, it was kinda windy, but they sat on the beach and Aunt Puney got to lookin' at the lighthouse way out in the bay. It was one of them lights that flash on and off every 30 seconds.

After she'd been lookin' at it for 15 minutes, she turned to Uncle Hink and says, "Well, Hink, I've learned my lesson in patience already—that wind has blown that light out 30 times and that fell just keeps lighting it again!"

He spoke in a modulated, southern voice, she explained. He was dark and handsome.

ARMY OPENS FLOOD BIDS ON THURSDAY

Bids for the first actual work on Orange county's $15,248,000 flood control and water conservation project will be opened tomorrow. The Journal learned today.

The bids will be opened in the offices of the U. S. army engineers in Los Angeles, and will seek quotations on costs of core drilling on all eight sites of dams in the countywide flood control program.

Specifications for the work were sent out to all drilling contractors in the district. The work will include testing of foundations to determine exact locations of the big dams.

Contractors will furnish equipment and crews for the work. It was not known what the cost of this work will be, or how many will be employed on the work.

It is necessary to complete this foundation drilling work before actual construction work is launched. The government will pay for all costs of construction, amounting to nearly $13,000,000.

Moore, Giant left fielder, first man up, was an easy out, grounding to Gehrig unassisted. Bartell, shortstop, singled sharply just inside the third base line for the first hit of the game. Ott, third sacker, lifted an easy fly for Gehrig. Hank Leiber, batting in cleanup position, struck out with the count two and two.

No runs, 1 hit, no errors, 1 left.

COURTHOUSE LACKS FIRE INSURANCE

Hall of Records Also Unprotected

Orange county's courthouse and hall of records—assessed at $142,155 and containing irreplaceable records, valuable papers and office equipment—have not a cent of fire insurance.

"Economy" prompted the dropping of a year and a half ago of fire insurance policies on the two buildings. Other structures owned by the county—the courthouse annex and buildings at the hospital—are insured.

Offices contained in the two uninsured buildings which possess valuable papers and securities, wooden furniture and inflammable linoleum, include recorder, treasurer, auditor, clerk, assessor, district attorney, justice court and tax collector.

"A fire couldn't start in here," said Supervisor John Mitchell today. "There isn't enough danger to carry insurance; the state doesn't carry insurance on its own buildings."

"Our other buildings are insured with the Orange county company, which insures about 20 per cent of the taxpayers. If 20 per cent can carry insurance for more dangerous buildings, we feel that the county as a whole ought to be able to stand the loss if there should be a fire here."

Chairman Willard Smith was not aware that insurance had been completely dropped, and said it was his opinion that some insurance should be carried.

"The buildings are constructed so they wouldn't be completely destroyed, of course," said Smith, "but I feel we should carry some insurance to protect us against damage."

Although the buildings are brick and stone, many office floors are covered with linoleum. Wooden furniture is in the majority, and even some filing cabinets are wood, containing books of important records. Wooden strips are found on most office walls; and door and window sashes are wooden.

Contractors will furnish equipment and crews for the work. It was not known what the cost of this work will be, or how many will be employed on the work.

OPEN DRIVE TO PROTECT IMPOUNDED DOGS

NAME SECRET COMMITTEE FOR PROBE

All Animal Shelters To Be Surveyed

A sweeping investigation of dog pounds throughout Orange county was launched today by the Orange County Humane society.

The drive to improve shelter conditions for animals was initiated today following a meeting of the humane society last night in Weber's bakery building on North Main street.

A secret committee composed of members of the society was named to conduct the investigation, which will embrace every pound in the county.

'IN BAD SHAPE'

President Charles Ocasin of the humane society said most pounds in the county are in bad shape, and the object of the investigation is to bring to light the poor treatment impounded animals receive, so far as housing is concerned.

The new move came following a vigorous complaint by the humane society that the pound at Anaheim was too small, was made of sheet metal and was placed out in the hot sun. Ocasin said today that the society hopes that the Anaheim situation will be cleared up in the near future.

GAINS NEW MEMBERS

Cooperation in improving pound facilities at Anaheim was promised by Poundmaster F. D. R. Robinson of Anaheim and his wife, who attended the meeting last night, and because of the publicity given in The Journal concerning the Anaheim pound, more than 20 prominent Anaheim persons now are taking an active interest in the work, Ocasin said.

While voting to conduct the investigation of county pounds, members of the humane society also voted to set aside half the dues paid into the society during the next year for construction of a permanent animal shelter to serve all of Orange county.

CHILD-BRIDE'S MOTHER HELD

The mother of a 15-year-old girl who married here at 12, was held to answer to superior court today by Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison. The mother is Mrs. Lou Kilpatrick, who was charged with filing a false instrument in consenting to her daughter's marriage two years ago. The girl is now a mother.

Mrs. Kilpatrick will be arraigned in superior court here on Oct. 15. Bond was fixed at $1000. She was returned here from Ontario to face the charges. The child bride, who became a mother at 13, still was in the San Bernardino county detention home while officers investigated the case.

'Rocky Joe' to Face Trial as Watch Suspect

CLINTWOOD, Va. (AP)—Dickenson county figuratively rolled back the centuries today as Commonwealth Attorney J. C. Smith prepared for the county's first hearing involving the question of witchcraft.

On complaint of "Aunt Jane" Dutton, 70-year-old resident of the Cumberland foothills, the prosecutor drew a warrant charging Joseph (Rocky Joe) Stanley, 75, with "unlawfully and falsely" speaking of the woman "as being a witch, she would soon die, and other words of like purport."

A hearing for "Rocky Joe" has been fixed for Friday afternoon. "Aunt Jane" obtained the warrant.

Bob Law tells me that Freddie Carson got a job by having his picture with the trailer printed in Popular Mechanics. I had my picture taken with the Jeep. Wonder what kind of a job I'll get?

And then there was the complainant who objected to a parrot and another to a rooster, and still another to too many dogs and if the police hear about it they may be able to do something. I am without authority. But I have sympathetic tendencies.

In the old days newspapermen used to get free railroad transportation. Then the law took it away from the newspapermen for fear it might influence public opinion, but congressmen and senators are still getting it.

Just about the time you decide there isn't any real estate selling, some one goes and sells a ranch or business property without asking you. Which goes to prove that property owners sell without inquiring what you think about it, or whether the transaction meets your approval. It only goes to show that irrespective of what we do or think life goes on regardless.

Koo Protests Japan's Policy

Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to France, one of the most brilliant younger statesmen, speaking before the League of Nations Assembly in Geneva, when he protested what he termed Japan's policy of aggression. His later resolution condemning Japanese bombing was adopted by 52 nations. Aga Khan, upper right, is presiding.

WORKERS FOR COUNTY NOT TO STRIKE

Committed to a non-strike policy and ultimate adoption of civil service, county employees elected officers last night and put into motion their new association.

Amendments to the new constitution of the Orange County Employees Mutual Benefit association at a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. included a statement that:

TO ADMIT OTHERS

"Under no consideration shall this association engage in or support a strike against the county of Orange or any municipality thereof, or of the state of California."

Food control district employees and several others not directly connected with the county proper will be admitted to membership under another amendment, which provides that employees of any district of which the supervisors are governors, shall be eligible.

MEMBERSHIP LIMITED

Elective officials and appointive department heads are barred, as are candidates for any elective office.

J. Arthur Anderson, assessor's office deputy, was named president of the association for the ensuing year. Other officers are Mrs. Belle Spangler, welfare department assistant director, vice president; Lester H. Schmelzer, school department, secretary, and Laura Joiner, tax collector's office, treasurer.

Members of the executive board are Jack Lloyd, surveyor's office; Laura B. Bettis, auditor's office; D. R. McMillan, probation; Grace R. Lansing, hospital; and Lynn B. Wallace, clerk's office.

100% PRESENT

One hundred five employees attended the session.

No formal protest against the new salary schedule will be entered with supervisors, it was said; but after the ordinance becomes effective individual members may register their complaints.

The organization was formed after the supervisors began work on the salary schedule, and when a number of cuts were rumored. As the ordinance was adopted, there were few cuts and many raises; but still there is a great deal of feeling among employees as a result.

For one thing, employees are restricted to 15 days away from work, whether it be vacation or sickness; after that their pay is docked. Formerly in cases of illness other workers in individual offices took up the slack, with what officials said was no hardship on the work.

Under the new ordinance, however, each department head must swear to a statement that all employees have given their full time to the county.

DEBATE SEWER CAST OCT. 21

Fate of the city of Orange's request for withdrawal from the joint outfall sewer district is expected to be decided at a meeting tentatively set for Oct. 21. The Journal learned today.

Leo Sheridan, Anaheim, president of the district board of directors, said that Oct. 21 has been set as the date for a general meeting on the specific problem, but the date might be changed because Fullerton officials may not be able to attend.

The meeting will be held in Anaheim.

An opinion given by City Attorney L. W. Blodget of Santa Ana, approved by the city council, said there is no provision in the state law for the withdrawal of any city or sanitary district from any joint outfall district.

It is the desire of Orange to construct its own sewage disposal plant just north of Santa Ana, a plan which failed to find favor with civic groups in this city.

the Model market, opened his meat market Sunday afternoon after having signed a contract with the union. He said that he could not afford to remain closed while meat markets on both sides of him were open on Sunday. He expects a showdown on the situation by next Sunday.

Object of the union activities is to close all local markets at 6 p. m. weekdays, 8 p. m. Saturdays and all day Sundays and holidays. G. C. Clark, proprietor of the Main Drive-In market, has defied the union in regard to closing at certain hours.

Clark and other market proprietors defy the union to tell them what hours they may keep their stores open. They say they are willing to abide by union hours and wages for the men, but question the right of a union to tell a store owner how long he shall or shall not stay open. They claim that butchers already have lost jobs because of the early closing hours.

GIRL SHOOTS SUITOR, SELF

EMMETT, Idaho. (AP)—With a bullet in her suitor's back and another through her own heart, 15-year-old Anna Jean Phipps ended a romance that blossomed to a year, authorities said today.

Miss Phipps, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Phipps of Emmett died with a bullet through her heart. Audie Robnett, 21, of Kansas City, Mo., was taken to a Boise hospital where his condition was termed "favorable" by his physician.

County Coroner Merle Bucknum said the shooting occurred late last night near Ola, a remote village in Western Idaho.

"It appears that the girl—she is an eighth grade student—fired at Robnett and then took her own life," he said. "She shot her own heart through the heart, causing instant death."

They will go to Rudolf Island via Anchorage.

BIG PUSH IS HALTED BY CHINESE

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese advance on all China fronts from Shanghai to the far north was reported today to have been halted by stiffened Chinese resistance.

In the Shanghai sector, the repeated Japanese thrusts against the 25-mile line running northwest from the north station were beaten back by sheer force of numbers in hand-to-hand combat. Far to the north in the strategically more important operations in the rich provinces of Hopeh and Shantung, reliable foreign reports bore out the Chinese claim that Japan's push had been stopped.

In the eastern sector of the north China war zone, Japanese claimed that their strongly mechanized column had invaded Shantung province completed the capture of the walled city of Tschow, which was pressing on against Tsingtao, the provincial capital.

Further inland, the Japanese column advancing along the railroad from Peiping to Hankow was said to have been outflanked at Paotungfu, the captured capital of Hopeh province.

Informants in Peiping reported that Japan planned to form the five north China provinces of Hopeh, Shantung, Chahar, Suiyuan and Shansi into an autonomous republic—if and when they are captured.

The dramatic nine-day-old battle for the environs of Shanghai continued unabated just across Soochow creek from the northern boundary of the international settlement.

Time after time, daring Japanese raiding parties attempted to break the deadlock and hurled themselves against the barbets of the Chinese defenders behind a screen of artillery and aerial fire.

Fahrenheit, German physician, was the first to use mercury instead of alcohol in thermometers.

It was neither in nor out—was the way he put it.

He placed at the top of his program wages and hours, surplus crop control, government reorganization and regional planning.

He refused to amplify his Chicago speech in which he suggested a "quarantine" of aggressor nations and called for "concerted" and "positive" action by peaceful nations to restore world stability.

He said he had found very little interest among the people as to methods, when asked about court reform in objectives.

The average man, he added, wanted quicker and cheaper justice. The impression he got, he said, was that the people felt maybe the President was right or wrong but they wanted the objective he was after.

CIO candidates did not lead the field, but its mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, former Democratic attorney general of the state, beat John W. Smith, president head of the city council who was endorsed by the American Federation of Labor. Richard W. Reading, present city clerk, was high man in the field of five for the mayoralty nomination and will contest with O'Brien in the Nov. 2 election.

Reading holds a withdrawal read from the Typographical union.

Commander Ivan Papanin reported from the Soviet polar ice floe camp that the long polar night has begun, necessitating search by moonlight or with flares dropped from planes.

State Salary Increase Halted

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Recently approved salary increases for state employees totaling $450,000 a year were rescinded yesterday when the state personnel board adopted a resolution which ordered Controller H. B. Riley not to honor warrants for pay increases pending further action.

The board held there appeared to be doubt as to equity of the plan. The board decided to consider increases after results of a

PROPOSE MERGING OF TOWNSHIPS, CONSTABLE OFFICES

PLAN OFFERS RURAL AREAS PROTECTION

Would Increase Force Of Sheriff Jackson

Abolition of the time-whiskered job of constable—all but three in the county—was under consideration today, as another step toward the frequently proposed centralization of county government under a modern system.

The nine other constables' jobs if his office, shorn of the old name and put on patrol duty to give rural communities more police protection.

THREE TOWNSHIPS

This was revealed today as supervisors considered still another protest against inadequacy of the present sheriff's force to patrol the unincorporated area of the county, and as a delegation from the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the Coast association prepared to meet again with Sheriff Logan Jackson and a group of supervisors to work out a solution.

Abolition of the constables' jobs would be included in redistricting of the county into three townships, with three justice courts instead of the present 11. Three constables would have to be retained as officers of the courts; but the others either would lose their jobs if, they are considered good officers, appointed to the sheriff's office.

KELLOGG OFFER

Supervisory enthusiasm was brightened considerably by George Kellogg of Yorba Linda, president of the Associated Chambers.

"In connection with this consolidation of townships," Kellogg said, "it is possible we can be of a great deal of cooperation if this consolidation will help us get better protection."

Kellogg headed a delegation of county civic leaders who appeared for the third time this season to ask better protection, among other areas, for the South Coast region.

One home there, it was said, has been burglarized three times in recent months.

MONEY AHEAD

The present 11 constables cost about $18,000 a year for salaries. Their other income is from serving legal papers. The county could collect the service fees, pay more for the men as deputy sheriffs, and still be money ahead.

Consolidation of townships and the slash in the number of constables were seen today as the second step toward what may possibly become a charter form of government for Orange county.

First step was taken during the recent salary adjustments, when fees were taken away from the sheriff, public administrator and coroner, recorder and treasurer. The fee system, as well as the township constable setup, is a carryover from centuries ago before police departments were thought of.

SLABACK HEADS JAYSEE 'Y'

Electing Stanley Slaback as president with Joe Crawford, vice president, Roy Potter, secretary-treasurer, and Bob Warren, reporter, the Junior college Y. M. C. A. swung into action yesterday for its new salary schedule.

An item in one schedule said "sheriff's investigator, $145 a

SLEUTHS FIND SLEUTH Surprise! It's R. R. Lutes

They found the sheriff's investigator!

Even Sheriff Logan Jackson was glad today to find out who his investigator is, because he couldn't think who it might be last week when the board of supervisors gave forth its new salary schedule.

Lutes, veteran photographer and fingerprint expert in the record bureau, is the missing man. It rather surprised Lutes, too.

"Why," said the sheriff, "I thought all my men were investigators."

month," and it was all a mystery.

Today it was discovered. Russell Lutes, veteran photographer and fingerprint expert in the record bureau, is the missing man.

"Americans want peace: Roosevelt energetically condemns policy of invasion and fascist blackmail," Roosevelt accuses provocative nations."

In Nanking a spokesman for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government declared the speech was "gratifying to China as evidence that America is emerging from isolationism and neutrality."

TALK WELCOME

"Especially welcome," he said.

"Mr. Roosevelt's implied condemnation of Japan when he said

"without warning or justification civilians are being ruthlessly murdered."

"We understand why the United States desires to avoid this (Sino-Japanese) war but isolationism is not the way. China agrees with the president's statement that peace-loving nations must strive in concert to halt treaty violators."

"But this must be done before it is too late. China hopes America's public opinion soon will crystallize in some definite form, such as the enforcement of sanctions."

Great Britain taking the president's words as an offer of cooperation in the Far East, sought a formula to give force to his idea to "quarantine" the "contagions" of war.

NAVAL SUPPORT

The cabinet, believing it had at least moral support of the United States, weighed emergency measures to stifle threats of peace in the Orient and in Europe where Spain's "international" civil war is the most immediate concern.

The Deutsche Diplomatich-Politisch-Korrespondenz, German foreign office organ, said:

"Mr. Roosevelt talked in very general terms about 'the sacredness of treaties' without distinguishing which treaties conform to international morality and which do not."

"He spoke of countries eager to attack and others which think only of defending themselves, without here indicating any adequate marks of distinction. He avoided discussing the role of bolshevism which menaces all states and peoples."

VIENNA HAPPY

"If the President of the United States sees salvation in union of peaceful nations and frightening off the bad, then such a proposal can have a practical value only if clarity already has been established as to which are good and which are bad."

In Vienna, such headlines as "Roosevelt Declares War on War" were typical of the reaction. While editors awaited some hint of the Austrian government's attitude, the publication "Die Stunde" observed:

"Roosevelt has given up the American policy of isolation and stands now beside 90 per cent of the world's population which longs for peace and opposes treaty violation and irresponsible yielding to reckless instincts."

"Certainly the President does not propose to be drawn deeply into affairs of Europe or the Orient, but neither will America stand aside idly when confronted with the problem of preserving world states."

A spokesman for the chancellery said: "A strong declaration for observing international obligations, coming from such a powerful source, is a great comfort to small states."

La Prensa, in Buenos Aires, said the President found it indispensable, in "front of international anarchy," to state the peaceful determination of the United States.

"There is nothing strange in these energetic, clear words where the United States fixes its position before the disquieting problems which confront the world and which have aroused great interest in Europe and on our continent," La Prensa said.

In Geneva, League of Nations statesmen regarded the league's condemnation of Japan for invading China as strengthened by President Roosevelt's declaration.

A French government spokesman in Paris characterized the Roosevelt speech as marking the "real entry of the great moral force of the United States" into the world's troubled affairs.

"The speech will have thunderous repercussions," he said.

"The full backing of the United States for nations who are working to preserve peace means that they will be greatly strengthened."

Laguna Council Decides Tonight on Police Action

NEW SET-UP ASKED FOR DEPARTMENT

Health Inspection Plan on Program

LAGUNA BEACH.—For three weeks Mayor L. F. Mallow and the Legion—chamber of commerce joint committee for police "modernization" have awaited action on their respective plans for police department change. Action has been promised on both this evening at the council meeting, the first meeting in a month.

Though not differing with respect to desk sergeant recommendations, the mayor's plan for graduated ranks, making a police captain (specifying Officer Howard Allanson) actual working head of the force, does not stress a need for a crime-expert, as does the Legion-chamber suggestion.

Definite reports on the progress of the health-inspection of food-stuff-handlers, proposed by the Legion, are expected from Councilman Thomas Cummings and City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey. As a county-wide campaign by the American Legion is now under way, local interest has been high in the proposed ordinance, which would require medical examinations from restaurant, grocery store and meat department employees.

Initiated in Laguna Beach, the Legion plan for examination requirements has been promised action "providing other communities approved similar plans." Now with county-wide Legion pressure applied, Laguna Beach is likely to be the first community with mandatory examination ordinances.

H. B. TO RUSH PAVILION PLAN

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Members of the city council started action at a meeting Monday night whereby the city will be able to obtain a $23,456 federal grant for construction of a huge beach pavilion and recreational center for which local funds already have been voted.

Speed in completing plans and specifications for the pavilion were urged by A. D. Wilder, state WPA director, who pointed out in a letter that different specifications probably will be necessary because of changes in prices of materials since the project first was submitted. A deadline date of Oct. 17 was set on the project.

Salaries of certain city officials were decided upon at the meeting, with interest centering around the offices of city judge, city attorney and police chief, upon which residents will vote soon. The chief of police will receive $220, city attorney $150, with an additional $50 for a secretary and the city judge, $75.

COASTERS TO HEAR SHEPPARD

ORANGE.—A spirited argument on the parking situation in the city occurred last night, when several council members presented the plan to include at least two more downtown streets in the restricted parking area.

Clerks park on either Orange or Olive streets, one block each way from Chapman avenue, and prevent patrons from stopping near places of business on those streets, members claimed. A two-hour parking limit was asked, although this limit might interfere with persons attending conventions at either of two churches on these streets.

Police Chief George Franzen expressed his opinion that the parking limit would not relieve congestion, that what the city needs is actually more parking space, and suggested that both Olive and Orange streets be widened to permit diagonal parking.

A committee of Councilmen J. E. Riley, Kellar Watson, Jr., and Henry Bandich was appointed to meet with the Merchants' Service Bureau and seek additional parking facilities.

MESA W.C.T.U. GETS HONOR

YORBA LINDA.—Mrs. Selmer M. Rosedale, general chairman of the annual school carnival to be held Saturday, announced today that Mother Goose has been chosen as the theme this year.

Mrs. Rosedale and Mrs. Ross Johnson, president, met with the grade mothers last week to arrange details of a parade, which will leave the school at 2 p. m.

Concessions will be operated during the afternoon on the school grounds, dispensing coffee, candy, pop, ice cream and doughnuts, as well as fancywork and many useful articles.

It is hoped that the services of Monte Montaña, who featured the entertainment last year, can be obtained again for this year.

A dinner will be served starting at 5 p. m. and will continue until 7 p. m.

"What shall our attitude be in the next war?" was Duane Kipp's impromptu topic, while Terence Sheahan, weather expert, talked on bureau facts and figures. Durand's method of popping questions at the just risen, unprepared speakers, proved an interesting innovation, members claimed.

RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS FOR BREA

BREA.—Plans for a roll call of at least 1600 Red Cross members in northern Orange county from Nov. 11 to Thanksgiving will be begun at a luncheon in Brea Monday.

L. A. Hogue, roll call chairman for the chapter, was in charge of the meeting, and introduced as special guests and speakers, Harry Welsh, chairman of Northern Orange County chapter, Mrs. Laura R. Warren, executive secretary of the Orange county council and Richard E. Ziegler, national roll call worker.

Hogue, also chairman of the Brea branch, appointed Howard Robinson as chairman of the Brea roll call. Working with him will be Mrs. H. C. Yarbrough, Mrs. Ray Wolfe, L. W. Hyde, Dr. Glenn Curtis and V. E. Jaster.

H. A. Randall, chairman of the La Habra branch, will head the roll call in that district. Roll call chairmen for other areas will be announced later by Hogue.

STATE'S OIL MARKET HITS NEW HIGH

23,901,011 Barrels Used During August

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—California's two billion dollar oil industry cracked all previous monthly records in its history but one in the marketing of petroleum products during August.

The month's business accounted for disappearance of 23,901,011 barrels, Edward T. Knudson, federal petroleum economist, computed today. Demand in November 1929 was higher by a small margin.

July disappearance was 23,043,503 barrels—a new record since 1929—and August total demand last year 20,098,772 barrels.

The new mark resulted from increased demand for a variety of petroleum products. The biggest single item was fuel oil—heavy crude. Industry, shipping, export trade and railroads were principal users accounting for a demand of 3,898,497 barrels for the month.

HALLMAN MADE ORANGE JUDGE

Over the protest of two city councilmen, Frank E. Hallman, Orange real estate dealer, was appointed city judge last night at a salary of $77.50 per month.

Councilman E. J. Riley and Kellar Watson, Jr., opposed the move on the ground that the office could be combined with that of justice of the peace, as was done for several years. In that event Riley added that Justice Cal D. Lester would do the work of the city judge for $50 per month.

Mayor A. C. Boice expressed the opinion that the two offices should not be combined, although neither office has work which would occupy the full time of a man. It was indicated that Hallman will be in his office only part of each day.

Before the vote was taken, City Attorney Gordon X. Richmond called for a resolution on the appointment, which was passed with three "yes" and two "no" votes.

Tubbs Goes Into Walnut Business

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs reluctantly went into the walnut business today, on behalf of the county. What he'll do with the walnuts, he hasn't the slightest idea.

Tubbs told supervisors yesterday afternoon that the new walnut husk pest, had infected trees in Irvine Park. In order to prevent spread of the pest by picnickers who might carry the walnuts down to commercial groves, Tubbs will have to pick the nuts, treat them against the pest, and dispose of them, somehow.

Titles, Fortune Finally Catch Up With Australian

SYDNEY, Australia. (AP)—George Cecil Morris, who "ran away from titles" 50 years ago, apparently was caught by a baronetcy today.

The 86-year-old man becomes the unwilling head of one of the largest and wealthiest families of Wales as the heir to his nephew, Capt. Sir Tanckerville Morris, who died a week ago in Wales.

Morris flatly turned down the 3000-acre estate and baronetcy which now falls to him.

"I don't want either," he declared. "I ran away from titles 50 years ago. I want to be left alone with my flowers."

But nominally he will be the head of the family, though he needn't use his title.

A record attendance is anticipated at the social evening tonight when disabled veterans and their families will meet at the K. C. hall under the auspices of Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, according to an announcement by C. A. Spurrier, adjutant.

Business will be discarded for this meeting, which will commence at 6:30 p. m. with a potluck dinner. Coffee, cream, sugar and incidentals will be furnished by the host organization, while those in attendance are requested to bring a covered dish, salad or dessert.

Following the dinner a concert will be sponsored by the D. A. V. organization, which will feature a group of talented artists from the Federal Music project.

Claims Husband Built Fence In Family Bed

SALEM, Mass. (AP)—Her husband built a fence "right in the center of our bed," Mrs. Ethel M. Brouillard, 27, of Gloucester, told Judge Harry R. Dow.

"He nailed a plank in the middle of the bed," she explained. "It was very uncomfortable for me to sleep after that, for the bed was none too large."

Judge Dow took her divorce petition on charges of cruelty under advisement.

Harvard Finally Changes Spelling Of 'Shakespeare'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—After 300 years Harvard finally has decided to spell the Bard of Avon's name "Shakespeare."

Professor George Lyman Kittredge, famed Shakespearian authority, spelled it "Shakespere." But he retired at the close of the last academic year.

Now the Harvard English department officially has added the "E" and "A."

Here's the Book of Rules For Fire Prevention Week

By the (AP) Feature Service
CHICAGO. — A $263,000,000 pile of ashes that wasn't worth a dime to anyone but the junk man—that's what fire gave the United States last year.

Every year 7000 persons, half of them children, are killed in burning homes. A third of America's annual fires consume dwellings.

The national safety council, which announced these figures, says that fire losses in private dwellings can be lessened materially if the advice illustrated in the accompanying sketches is followed.

If your house does catch fire, a rug or heavy garment may smother a small blaze; a fire extinguisher easily put it out. If the fire is large, the council advises:

1. Notify the fire department.
2. Do not open your closed door at once if you smell smoke at night. Flame and smoke rushing in might be fatal. Feel the door; if it is not warm, open it cautiously.

3. If there is dense smoke but no flame, crawl to safety on your hands and knees (the air is pure at the floor level).

4. If your path to exits is cut off, make a rope of bed sheets or clothing and let yourself down from a window.

GUARD FIRES

Enclose all fireplaces, wood or coal-burning, with wire screening. Keep a fire extinguisher in the house. Fireproof the house as much as possible.

WATCH WIRING

Be sure floor lamps and extension cords are repaired. Disconnect electric appliances not in use. Use only appliances approved by testing bureaus.

KEEP OIL OUTSIDE

Set oil mops in open air, burn oily rags. Don't store flammable material in closets. Keep gas cocks closed; never look for gas leaks with a flame.

BEWARE OF SOOT

Have chimneys, flues, furnace or stove cleaned annually. Protect woodwork and other inflammable parts near furnace or stove with insulation. Don't leave dust rags near hot pipes.

CLEAN SAFELY

Never use gasoline or naphtha for home garment cleaning. Never start a fire with kerosene or gasoline. If you must keep such fluids, put them in safety cans, outdoors.

WAIT ON THE WIND

When you rake up leaves and dead grass to burn outdoors, wait until there is no wind. And never leave such fires unattended. Always put furnace ashes in metal containers.

'BOOTLEGGER'S SENT TO JAIL

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Fines of $10,000 each and two-year prison sentences were imposed upon Charles Garzoli and John L. Boitano, alleged leaders of a Sonoma county liquor ring, by U. S. District Judge A. F. St. Sure today.

George Silva, Victor Boitano, Sam Duncan and Clarence Morelli were sentenced to two years and a day. Walter Garzoli, a brother of Charles Garzoli, was fined $500. Judge St. Sure dismissed charges against William F. Outer, A. Bloom, Herbert Frengle and Val Lucchesi, who were indicted with the others several months ago. Dismissals were requested by Assistant U. S. Attorney George Helm.

Major W. P. King, special investigator for the federal alcohol tax division, charged the liquor ring had defrauded the government of at least $561,400 in taxes on their illegal liquor.

ENGINEER AIDS GROVE HEATING

DAVIS.—To aid in the research being undertaken by the University of California College of Agriculture on the orchard heating problem as affected by the smoke nuisance in Southern California, Coby Lorenzen has become associated with the agricultural engineering division on the Davis campus. Lorenzen, a graduate of the University with the class of 1929, and a National Research Council fellow later, has been with the United States Forest Service experiment station in Berkeley. Lorenzen will work with A. S. Leonard, loaned to the university by the Standard Oil company until Jan. 1, and after that date will act as combustion engineer in orchard heating problems. Professor H. B. Walker, head of the agriculture engineering division, announces that the plans for the field laboratory at Riverside have been completed and that construction will start soon.

Lebrun's a Title Holder; He's Godfather to 1600

PARIS. (AP)—President Albert Lebrun has little to say about the way France is run, but he has an excellent claim to the title of world's champion godfather. He has more than 1600 godchildren. Among the duties that keep the French chief of state busy is the job of being godfather to every baby who is the eighth living child of a French couple. He acts, that is, if the parents want him to be godfather. And parents usually do.

Years ago the Society for the Increase of the Population of France persuaded the president to be godfather for the fourteenth child born to a French couple as a tribute to the parents' contribution to the nation.

After that the president received a flood of requests. Some were from parents with more than 14 children, who wondered why they had been left out. Others were from parents with one child, who informed the chief of state that theirs was a very exceptional baby.

QUAKE ROCKS MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY. (AP)—A moderate earth tremor at 3:47 a. m. rocked buildings, toppled over dishes and roused scores of the city's population from bed.

There was no damage done. The seismic observatory located the epicenter of the tremor at about 125 miles south of the capital, probably in the state of Guerrero. It lasted 20 seconds in the severest phase and registered grade five on the Mercalli scale.

Fire Prevention Week

October 3rd to 9th

Just a bit of wood with chemicals on the tip . . . the match, one of civilization's greatest conveniences and most dangerous weapons. That splinter of wood, carelessly used, may cause a roaring inferno and millions of dollars' damage . . . horrible death to human beings trapped in flaming homes and buildings . . . suffocated by smoke and fumes if they escape the searing flames. A home burns every minute of every hour of every day in America.

This is Fire Prevention week. Heed this warning now—locate the fire hazards on your premises . . . correct them at once . . . and watch those matches!

Mayor Rowland---

"We are heartily in accord with Fire Prevention Week. We are doing everything in our power to increase the efficiency of our fine fire department. I wish to personally urge every citizen to observe this week and practice fire prevention the year 'round."

Fire Chief Luxembourger---

"Santa Ana's citizens have helped the Fire Department in establishing a minimum in fire losses by keeping their homes and premises free from fire hazards. With their continued support we will be able to maintain this fine record."

THOMPSON TO JOIN WHITE SOX IN '38

Cincinnati Drafts Bongiovanni From Portland Beavers

NEW YORK. (AP) — Stalemated for the second year in a row by New York's pennant monopoly, 11 major league clubs have drafted 16 minor league players in preparation for the pursuit of the Yankees and Giants in 1938.

The Giants and Yankees, with more important business at hand, didn't get a man at last night's draft meeting. The Boston Bees drafted three and the Phillies, Athletics and White Sox two each. The Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs took one apiece.

Some of the players are veterans, like Rupert Thompson, jaunty outfielder the Bees sent to San Diego with Jim Chaplin for Vince DiMaggio last spring. Thompson comes back to the White Sox with a .327 batting average and a collection of 16 home runs.

THOMPSON MARRIES SAN DIEGO. (AP) — The Portland Beavers can blame their trouncing at the hands of the San Diego Padres in the Pacific Coast league championship finals on a girl.

Just before the first game of the series, Rupert Thompson, star outfielder, announced his engagement to Helen Hawking, air line stewardess. He then won the game with a pair of home runs for the Padres. He knocked two more homers before the series was over and generally aggravated the Beavers with his hitting.

Yesterday he married Miss Hawkins at Reno. They will live this winter in Lincoln, Ill., Thompson's home.

Three infielders went to the Bees: Robert Kable of Indianapolis of the American association, Joe Walsh of Little Rock in the Southern association and Earl Maggett of Houston in the Texas league. The records show Maggett is the best hitter for 1937. He sports a .346 mark.

Cincinnati and St. Louis Browns also got one man each. The Reds drafted Outfielder Anthony Bongiovanni from Portland in the Pacific Coast league, and Ralph Buxton of Oklahoma City in the Texas league. Potter won 11 games and Buxton 13 in 1937.

Other acquisitions included: Pittsburgh, Pitcher Robert Klinger, of Sacramento, Pacific Coast league and Detroit, Pitcher Edward Selway, Fort Worth, Texas series baseball strike.

The Sox started the current winning streak, which does not include spring training meetings, by winning the seventh and final game of the 1931 series. They whipped through the 1934 affair in four straight, and last year gave their favored rivals another four-game polishing.

Today's quotation on the Sox was 7 to 5.

A pair of righthanders, 37-year-old Ted Lyons who won 12 and lost seven for the Sox during the late major league season, and Tex Carleton, whose record for the Cubs was 16 victories and eight defeats, were the pitching choices for the opening game.

Of course, the greatest single bit of strength the Giants added to their roster this year was Cliff Melton. The ganging southpaw just about won the pennant by his great pitching down the home stretch.

The outstanding change in the Giants is the fact that they have been playing ball as a unit—as though they had been playing together for years. And they have confidence. The way they knocked off the leaders in the race to the wire stamps them a game team, one that is not likely to fold up at the sight of the Yankees' big bats.

The Yankees may repeat last year's triumph, but it won't be without a fight.

The fish apparently are getting rough and can't stand rough weather any more," said Parvin as he read a report on the day of 1000 trout at Trapper's lake.

At first it was thought the trout had died from salmon eggs, used by fishermen as a lure, which might have been poisoned.

But post mortems disclosed disease, which probably resulted from blows. The disease was fin rot, a fungus ailment which follows physical injury.

The only explanation I can offer is that the fish were feeding near the surface of the water in a hall storm and got battered," said Parvin.

Mustangs Can Lose

—Figures Prove It

DALLAS. (AP) — The Southern Methodist university Mustangs, who have won four Southwest championships and one national football title in the last 21 years, have had their share of defeats.

213 games they have played, the Mustangs have won 117, lost 66 and tied 30.

In 104 Southwest conference games, the Mustangs won 46, lost 40 and tied 17.

Giants Improved On All Fronts

By TOM PAPROCKI

It is possible the Yankees, with their vaunted power at the plate, may blast their rivals from the Polo Grounds right out of the World Series as they did last fall. But it isn't likely the Yanks will do so with the ease that marked their 1936 triumph. It isn't the same Giant team. The changes Manager Bill Terry has made in his lineup have improved the National league on all fronts.

A year ago the Giants had Travis Jackson at third base, Jackson, a great ball player in his prime, was definitely through as a big-league player. On first was Terry, another veteran ending out his string. It is a wonder the Giants stood up at all with that combination on the diamond.

The move that brought Mel Ott in from right field proved excellent. Ott has developed into just about the best third baseman in the senior league. And the way John McCarthy has been covering first and pounding the ball certainly gives Giant fans no cause to wish that Terry were back at the initial sack.

Jimmy Ripple moved into Ott's old spot in right and played the position as though he had done so with all his baseball life. Wally Berger helped the Giants on several occasions with timely long-distance blows. To top it off, Terry pulled another smart one when he sent Lou Chiozza to center field after he had failed at third.

U.C.L.A. USES WILLIAMS, SCHELL AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Plenty of deals being cooked up here as the baseball clubs gather. Looks like the biggest winter turnover in years. One choice tidbit is that Cincinnati is out to get Bill McKechnie of the Bees as manager, with Gabby Hartnett and Jimmy Wilson also in the running. Just a question of whether the Reds can bag either of the trio. Reds to rebuild from ground up. Eleven of this year's team re-signed, but none of the others have even been approached. Latter list includes such big shots as Ernie Lombardi, Gene Schott and Paul Derringer. If they go, who will take their places? *

LOYOLA GIRDS FOR FRIDAY NIGHT TILT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Tom Lieb believes his Loyola Lions have been nursed along carefully through two grid tests and will be in tip top shape for their big game with Hardin-Simmons of Texas Friday night at Gilmore stadium.

The Texans, known as a typical pass-heaving outfit with never a dull moment, arrive here Friday morning.

TROJANS UNDERDOGS AGAINST BUCKEYES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—University of Southern California's once-feared Trojans will go up against Ohio State here Saturday as decided underdogs, but they won't go down in defeat without a struggle.

As the squad lined up for another stiff workout today, head Coach Howard Jones viewed the coming conflict with anything but enthusiasm.

With the experience of last week's game with Washington, if it was a 7-0 loss, Troy's sophomore regulars such as Ollie Day, Greville Lansdell and Bill Sangster may fulfill pre-season expectations.

Yamagishi Plans To Join Army, End Net Career

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jiro Yamagishi, Japanese Davis Cup tennis player, announced today he expected to join the Japanese army and end his tennis career. He said he would make his final tennis appearance in the Japanese national championships in November and enter the army within a year.

"If any trouble starts with Russia," Yamagishi said, "I probably will be forced to go into the army sooner."

Three years ago—Texas shaded Elmer Layden's first Notre Dame 11, 7-6. Virginia Van Vie won U.S. women's golf title.

799 CARS OF VALENCIAS ARE SHIPPED

Fruit Exchange Head Says Market Better

Improvement in the California valencia orange market was reported today by Manager Clarence Skiles of the Orange County Fruit Exchange.

Skiles' report showed that shipments of valencias for the month of September through associations affiliated with the Orange County Fruit Exchange amounted to 799 carloads, 29 cars of which were sold through market channels within the state and 770 cars moved to export and domestic markets.

LEMON SHIPMENTS

This makes a total of 4271 cars of valencias moved to Oct. 1 by the exchange. At the same date last year shipments of packed and loose valencias amounted to 5802 carloads.

Lemon shipments for the district in the month of September amounted to 23 cars, while bringing the total shipments to date of this variety to 328 cars. Total California Fruit Growers Exchange storage as of Oct. 1 shows a decrease of 19 per cent as compared with the storage of Sept. 15 and while 25 cars more than last year, is below the storage for three of the past five years and is 140 cars below an average storage on Oct. 1 during the past five years.

MARKE GOOD

Estimated picks of lemons for October, which are around 500 cars below those of last year, are 300 cars less than the average picks for October during the past five years. The market on California lemons at the present time is very satisfactory on large sizes, the report said, however, the values on extremely small sizes and off-condition are quite low.

The revised merchantable crop of Southern California valencias as reported by the California-Arizona Orange and Grapefruit Agency now has been set at 23,850 cars, which includes the entire shippable crop for the season for all shippers. Shipments of valencias to Sept. 25 have amounted to 21,513 cars, which leaves a merchantable crop as of Sept. 26 of 2337 carloads, which compares with 4732 cars shipped packed and loose after the comparable date last year.

The second lecture by Mrs. Louise P. Sooy, above, on modern costume design, will be given next Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Willard auditorium. Through the courtesy of Rankin's, a number of fall costumes will be displayed, including tailored and formal attire. The analysis of personal problems in wearing apparel adds a great deal of interest. Anyone interested is invited to be present, according to Mrs. Golden Weston, adult education department director.

She knows too, that some tot will beam with delight at being her proud possessor. And what little girl wouldn't love a soft cuddly addition to her doll family—one that has her very own clothes. In pattern 5725 you will find a pattern of a doll that measures 14 inches in height and a pattern for the clothes; instructions for making them; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and pattern number.

Newlyweds Pay Bill When Town Dances

ST. MARY'S Ia. (AP)—No one gets married and settles in this little German-Irish community without treating the whole town to a wedding dance.

A general telephone call on all lines leading out from town summons the neighbors to a dance at the town hall in the evening of the wedding day.

If such an invitation has not been broadcast within two weeks after the marriage, the townspeople gather for a charivari—and this always brings the desired results.

NEWSPAPERS ASSURE YOUR SAFETY IN BUYING!

Before there were newspapers, buying was a game of wits! Prices paid by the consumer were the result of bargaining with the seller. There was no standard of value and the ideal of service did not exist.

The merchant whose advertisement you see in this paper is honestly offering you honest value at an honest price. He is honest because he wants to be and honest because he has to be. Only the enterprise which intends to be fair can afford to expose itself publicly in its community.

Thousands of dollars of advertising revenue are refused annually by this newspaper because the propositions which they represent cannot be considered beneficial to your welfare.

In the advertisements in this newspaper you have a buying guide of known worth and reliability. Here merchants and manufacturers spread the news of their best. Here you can consider and compare. You can save yourself many hours of diligent search for merchandise which you desire to buy wisely.

Your newspaper is a vital part of your life and the life of your community. It brings you the current history of your time and safeguards the social order in which you live. Yet it costs you only a few pennies per day.

Stop and consider why you should appreciate it as the greatest single factor in your daily life.

WAGES IN BUILDING TRADES SHOOT UPWARD

SCHEDULE IS APPROVED BY AFL GROUPS

Agreements Signed By Contractors

Readjusted minimum wages scales now in effect for organized labor in Orange county have resulted in increased wages for many groups of workers, The Journal learned today.

The new schedule now has been approved by the building trades and the central labor council, according to F. J. Lincoln, secretary of the Building Trades Council.

Wages for laborers in building concrete, excavating, first class and unskilled divisions have been advanced to 75 cents per hour over the old scale of 52 and 56 cents an hour. Other adjustments were not as large.

President Ben S. Milligan of the hodcarriers building and common laborers union, said that the minimum rates now in effect became effective through agreements with contractors throughout the Orange county.

New minimum rates are: Hodcarriers, $1.35 per hour; building, concrete, excavating, first class and unskilled laborers, 75 cents; plasterer tender, in any capacity, $1.35; plaster and mortar mixers, 85 cents, and concrete mixers, 90 cents per hour.

OTHER SCALES

The new rates of pay were established as a result of a series of conferences between union officers and committeemen, representing the workers and employing contractors.

Other wage scales now in effect include: Carpenters, $1 per hour; cement finishers, $1.25; electricians, $1; glaziers, $1; joiners, $1; lather, $1.12½; wood floor layers, $1; the masons, $1; painters, $1; plasterers, $1.50; plumbers, $1.25; roofers, $1; steam fitters, $1.25; reinforcing steel workers, $1; steel frame workers, $1.25; tile setters, $1; truck drivers, 75 cents, and welders, $1.12½ per hour.

Santa Anans Worth Knowing

Frank T. Lewis, service station operator, 214 East Seventeenth street.

Where and when were you born? Cripple Creek, Colo., July 14, 1907.

Where did you go to school? Colorado college, Stanford university.

What is your hobby? Automobiles.

What does Santa Ana need most? Concerted, directed means of supplying adequate recreational facilities for the people of the community, both juvenile and adult.

One sentence interview: The establishment of a playground system, under trained supervisors, would develop a community spirit in children that would more than offset the cost by eventually cutting law enforcement costs. Supervised playgrounds are one of the first steps toward crime prevention. The hoodlum is the result of undirected time.

EXPLAINS OAK ROOT FUNGUS

WEIR BUILDING NEARS END

Construction of a new weir near the Fifth street bridge, for measurement of water flow in the Santa Ana river, was almost completed today as the county received up in the top of the tree until the disease has a considerable start the roots.

The disease may be identified by a white threadlike mycelium growth underneath the bark of the root, also a purplish threadlike growth on the outside of the bark," said Wahlgren. "Toadstools may indicate the presence of this disease. If these symptoms are observed, then special precautions should be taken so that the disease will not spread throughout the orchard. The method of control consists of isolating the disease by trenching, followed by fumigation of the soil with carbon bisulfide.

"To isolate the tree, trenches should be dug between the rows in order that the roots may be inspected. If the roots crossing the first trench that is dug show the disease, the trench should be moved out another row and inspection carried on in this manner. A trench as deep as the root system should surround the area so the disease is isolated. After the disease is isolated, it is then necessary to control the disease in the area by fumigation. Trees that have gone out of production should be removed following this fumigation.

Junior Ebell Starts New Season

Soo Young Delights Group With Her Presentations

Without a doubt one of the most delightful programs ever to be given before Junior Ebellies, if not the entire Ebell club, was that which was presented at the juniors' initial meeting of the year last night by Soo Young, talented young Chinese actress. Unfortunately, she left her audience of more than 150, nothing to say, for her concluding number was a razor-sharp caricature of effusive clubwomen, an original sketch that convulsed the group with self-directed mirth. Likening her presentation to that American version of Chinese cookery, "chop suey," because of its widely varied parts, beautiful and melodious voiced young Oriental, who took her graduate work in speech and acting at Columbia university, introduced herself with an amusing resume of the filming of "The Good Earth."

Miss Young played the part of the ancient mistress in the photoplay, and her description of make-up technique and the almost unbelievable ingenuity of directors and producers to create certain of the scenes was extremely interesting.

Brilliant Acting

But it was when she abandoned the straight speaking role and displayed her remarkable versatility and competence as an actress that she completely entranced her audience. In the brilliantly jeweled costume of the well-to-do Chinese housewife, she enacted a "quarrel" scene from a noted Chinese opera, first explaining to her auditors the meaning of her every gesture according to the conventions of the Chinese theater. Her fulfillment of the parts of both master and mistress, the instant transition from deep voice to high falsetto, and the unbelievable grace of her movements created the illusion of a complete and finished performance in a Chinese opera house.

Again changing her costume to a long, full-sleeved white kimono with severe black head-dress (an exact replica of the Buddhist monk's costume) she presented in both English and Chinese an exquisite poetic monologue entitled "A Nun's Prayer For Happiness," again employing the quaint conventions of the Chinese theater.

Extreme contrast was vouchsafed in her next appearance, when she presented a literal translation of a Chinese patriot's speech urging her people to join the "New Life" movement of Gen. Chang Kai-Shek. Her concluding number were brilliant satires, composed by herself, in which she did a series of ludicrous imitations. The series was called "Celebrity Luncheon" and virtually had her audience in hysterics.

New President

Previous to the appearance of Miss Young, who was introduced by Mrs. Robert Guild, first vice president, Mrs. Albert Harvey conducted a business meeting, wielding the gavel for the first time since her election last spring.

Upon election of Mrs. Alvin Stauffer, courtesy chairman, the club voted to give silver spoon sets to new mothers of the club from now on, and upon motion of Mrs. Stanley Norton, second vice president and courtesy chairman, it was decided to hold a Junior Ebell rummage sale Nov. 18 and 19, proceeds to go to the club's charity program.

Annual dues were raised by vote of the club to three dollars per year, and the meeting concluded with reports from various chairmen, among them, the one on the district convention to be held here Nov. 2 and 3. Mrs. Burt Zaisen, chairman of Santa Ana's part in this, outlined her plans briefly, and upon motion from the floor, she and Mrs. Harvey were named voting delegates from the Junior Ebell.

Introduction of the club's three senior advisors, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. M. B. Wellington, and Mrs. Herbert Miller, as well as of the president of senior Ebell, Mrs. W. S. Thomson, preceded the serving of a delicious tea course.

Two stiff quills, standing in Pocahontas fashion, add dash to this new fall chapeau worn by Virginia Grey, film actress. Their scarlet and gray stripes add a flash of color to the skull cap made of narrow notched bands of black felt.

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

Miss Ethel Walker, city librarian, says as an antidote for the extreme sophistication of the modern novel, read "Honor Bright" by Frances Parkinson Keyes, "Time at Her Heels" by Dorothy Aldis, or "Elizabeth Gadge's 'Island Magic'" or "A City of Belles."

The new Journal column, "I Just Found Out," written by Mildred Browne, and appearing on the first page of the second section every day, is so clever I wish it were my brain-child!

Robert Brown, Jr., and his brother, Matt, are working "hand glove" with their father, Robert L. Brown, learning his business, which is the greatest compliment any father can have. Even young David makes himself serviceable at times, but none of them will admit having a voice. Daughter Ruth Mary, aged 11 years, is starting vocal lessons, and may prove to be the songbird, inheriting her father's talent.

Nora Flagg has been called the best dressed woman in Santa Ana. She is always gowned becomingly and appropriately.

There are so many women in our town that dress attractively! Ethel Walker in her shades of blue; Gertrude Hellis in pink or a good-looking lavender ensemble; Irene Daniger with sheer black and white, or in the brown and yellow; another, Mona Summers Smith, looks loveliest in creams, yellows, or tans; Dorothy Tubbs in flowered violet print, with a picture hat; petite Isabel Ball looks smart in whatever she wears; stately Effie Douglas looks best in shades of blue, and wears a cute little Irish hat from Belfast; and Mrs. R. A. Tierman looked charming at a recent function, gowned in black velvet with a new-style of velvet turban.

A window on lower Main street showed a beautiful ivory and blue bedroom, which would instinctively make you think of your dearest girl child and make you wish she might have it.

But a card in the window with "And So to Bed!" was out of harmony. When Samuel Pepys wrote his famous "Diary" in London in the seventeenth century, each instal-

Daniel, house chairman, was flanked by rust-hued tapers. Presiding over the tea urns were Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Davis.

In charge of the tea were Mrs. Walter Bacon, social chairman, and her standing committee of the year, composed of the Mesdames Thomas Rhone, Hans Wahlberg, Robert U. Smith, Don Plumb, Don Harwood, Bruce Anderson, and Miss Natalie Neff.

Betty Ryherd Weds Albert Markel

An impressive nuptial mass performed this morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church united Miss Betty Katharine Ryherd and Albert Charles Markel in matrimony.

The Rev. Father Timothy Galvin officiated at the ceremony which was given added beauty by the beautiful baskets of pastel larkspur and zinnias mingled with lacy ferns, and by the tall tapers that adorned the altar.

The petite blonde bride wore a quaintly styled gown of all over embroidered net, over white satin, with a fingertip veil that had been worn by her mother twenty-three years ago, and just last month by her sister, Miss Helen Louise Ryherd when she became the bride of William Beaudette.

A shower bouquet of pink rosebuds and delphinium blossoms completed the lovely costume.

Her only attendant, Miss Frances Crowther, wore a frock of peach colored lace, with broad-brimmed hat to match, and carried a bouquet of gardenias and white sweet peas.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Markel, was attended by Harold Daley of Long Beach. His ushers were his brothers, Walter Markel and Louis Markel. Another brother, J. Ogden Markel, sang the beautiful solos that preceded the ceremony, and Mrs. John Norton of Laguna Beach officiated at the organ.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ryherd received half a hundred guests at a reception in their home on North Olive street. In the receiving line with them were Mr. and Mrs. Markel and the bride and groom, and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. L. Stoddard. The latter wore a navy blue ensemble and Mrs. Ryherd was smartly attired in a rust-hued frock with black accessories. Mrs. Markel's costume was entirely of black, and all three wore gardenia corsages.

After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Markel will make their home at the corner of Kilson and McFadden street. Mrs. Markel is a graduate of Huntington Beach high school and Santa Ana junior college, where she was affiliated with the Moavas. The groom attended Santa Ana schools and Junior college, where he was a Bachelor and president of the Associated Students. He is a member of the contracting firm of Markel Brothers.

Queer how she sensed it coming!

A lovely table decoration for a luncheon served at a big round table, a large flat blue crystal bowl with pink hibiscus or water lilies floating, and on either side, blue flowers of glass, petals hiding small bulbs of light, the plants in square crystal pots.

Two unusual developments of note, an Easter lily blooming in October in the Muskopf garden at 641 North Birch street! And next door, at 643, is a rattlesnake cactus, the bloom a two-inch five-pointed star surrounding a rounded ring, within the ring a second five-pointed star, the whole covered with rattlesnake spots in brown and greenish-yellow—a queer member of the cactus family!

NADEEN MATHEW IS BIRTHDAY CELEBRANT

A group of little Miss Nadene Mathews' best friends gathered in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mathews, 807 West Edinger street, Saturday, to help her celebrate her third anniversary with a gay party.

When she finished opening her presents, the little guests were led to a long table centered with a huge cake and circled with favors for all.

Those who enjoyed cake and ice cream during the afternoon were Celia Beaudette and Jeannette and Lillian Shaw of Costa Mesa, Fredie and Edith Mathews of Huntington Beach, Barbara Mathews of Fullerton, Norma and Gene Dray, Bobby and Earlene Wolverton, Mary Lou McKey, Patsey Johnson, Nancy Ann Cone, Richard Cumston of Santa Ana. Guests in the party were the Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Bash, Mr. and Mrs. N. Turner and son Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan, the Mesdames Old Butcher, C. S. Peck, Etta Pistol, St. Denis, Lillian Lowen, W. Gurney, P. R. Krone, A. N. Glancy, E. L. Patton, Keith Hoffmaster, M. Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerrard, and Phyllis Mertis, and Jack Gerrard.

Woman's Club Hears State Chairman

Appropriately selecting the current Sesquicentennial Constitution celebration as her theme, Mrs. George Henry Hobt, state chairman of art, yesterday addressed members of the Santa Ana Woman's Club in their fortnightly meeting.

Mrs. Hobt turned from her discussion of the constitution as it affects every person's life to an explanation of famous canvases of George Washington. She showed many fine pictures of the latter examples.

Included on the entertainment program with Mrs. Hobt was Miss Dorothy Eggington, talented accordion player from Santa Ana High school. She played three selections, ranging from classical to popular.

With Mrs. R. A. McMahon presiding, members elected five new members, including Mrs. William E. Garrett, Mrs. E. L. Strubel, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Leon Lauderbach, and Mrs. W. L. Harbert. Mrs. L. E. Tarbox was in charge of the program.

Plans for coming meetings of the various club sections were announced, with resumes of the past session. Drama and Music section will meet with Mrs. Harry Brackett for their next session, while Homecraft members will enjoy a pot-luck luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. A. Elwell on Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Mrs. L. G. Holman will be hostess to the Garden section at 2 p. m., Oct. 28, in her home at 1104 North Baker street, and Mrs. Martha Linsenbard will entertain the Philanthropy group at 2 p. m., Tuesday, Oct. 12. On Friday evening, the Philanthropy luncheon will be in the home of Mrs. Linsenbard for a white elephant party and an evening of bridge. Reservations may be made with Mrs. F. A. Martin.

The Poetry group will hold their next meeting at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, Oct. 12, in the home of Mrs. Earl Ladd, with the next meeting of the Afternoon Social section will not be held until Oct. 26. The Evening Social section is planning a large luncheon to be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Drouthac on North Olive street.

MARY STODDARD

Real Reason for Women's Extravagance Is to Hold and Please the Men

A broken arm isn't going to keep one woman from having her say about a man who condemned the fair sex for their clothes complex and mania to outdo one another even at the expense of hubby's paycheck. Why are women "slaves to fashion," if they really are?

To please themselves? No, to please men. At any rate that is the real reason, as demonstrated in the instance our correspondent relates.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I do hope it's not late to say a few words in answer to the man who claimed that women are gold-diggers and think of nothing but clothes.

I broke my arm the day after his letter appeared and could not reply at once, but believe me, I decided then and there that this would be the first writing I'd do and here it is.

The thing that burns me up,

Miss Stoddard, is just a few days before that I happened to be at a party where there was a woman who thinks of nothing but clothes, men—more men.

She is up-to-the-minute in dress and something new every time she is out. Now the point is this: the men rave about how smart she looks, "all class" as one man put it.

They are all married and she has made trouble in one home.

They each have several children.

I asked the hostess what she were all crazy about her and insisted she be invited and that same evening the host spent most of his time entertaining her.

Federation Board Has Meeting

"Leadership," motto of the southern District Federation of Women's clubs, was the dominant note throughout the opening meeting of the executive board held at the Ontario Methodist church. Luncheon and the afternoon session were in the Ontario Woman's clubhouse.

Perfectly exemplified by the gracious and dynamic new leader, Mrs. David A. Fraser of San Diego, president who presided, and defined by Mrs. George S. Foster of Alta Loma, vice-president, in a keynote talk as: "that quality of mind and heart that combines intelligence, reliability, tolerance and devotion to the cause served," the theme was further stressed by the success of the first three tabloid forums, designed to develop leaders among club presidents taking part, and by the afternoon speaker, Miss Josephine G. Seaman, La Jolla, past state president and vice-president of the Western Women's Federation who spoke "Concerning Leadership."

Directed by Mrs. E. Smith of Anaheim, club ethics chairman, the forums of one half hour each were led by Mrs. A. G. Kieser of Riverside, district chairman of American Citizenship, whose club presidents speakers were Mrs. Ira Landis, Riverside Woman's club, Mrs. E. L. Tilton, Corona Woman's Improvement club, Mrs. Walter Heath, Banning Woman's club, Mrs. H. A. Ross, Riverside Wednesday club; by Mrs. R. P. Garbutt of Ontario, district chairman family security, assisted by Mrs. Volney B. Cooper, Bloomington Woman's club, Mrs. Hershel R. Griffin, Ontario Woman's club, Mrs. C. Winborne, Colton Woman's club, Mrs. George Stellman, Fontana Woman's club and Mrs. W. J. Frank, Fullerton Woman's club; and by Mrs. Clark McLean of Riverside, district chairman of education, whose speakers were: Mrs. A. P. M. Brown, Ebell of Anaheim, Mrs. Lorraine R. Kimbley, San Bernardino Woman's club, Mrs. W. S. Thomson, Ebell of Santa Ana Valley, and Mrs. B. D. Stanley, Woman's club of Orange. Thought-provoking were the three minute talks by these women, bringing interested discussion from the floor.

TELL PLANS

In a review of the state board meeting held at Fresno recently, Mrs. Fraser urged clubwomen to follow the policy of Mrs. Duncan S. Robinson, state president, in refusing to endorse or support anything without thorough investigation first. She asked that all district clubs send a copy of their year book to her.

County presidents briefly outlined projects for the coming year during the morning session. Mrs. H. T. Miller of El Centro, Imperial, whose theme is "In Youth is Our Hope and Our Salvation" hopes to unify women's groups of her county to work for the new detention home or reconstruction of the present one and also to lend a hand to boys and girls released from state institutions who face a problem of readjustment.

Orange county will "Step Forward to Greater Service" under Mrs. R. G. Miller of Huntington Beach. She aims at closer relations between federated groups, plans a citizenship study and a general "building" program for her clubs. Social diseases and Cancer, an educational program of cause and cure under the new state department for their work will occupy Riverside county women according to Mrs. Charles Pankratz of Banning, their president; Mrs. Robert M. Willson of Victorville, San Bernardino county, will strive to bring all her clubs into district and state federations while Mrs. C. C. Buehrer of San Ysidro, San Diego, has that same goal but adds additional Foundation fund members to her list.

Following luncheon, junior membership activities were told by Mrs. Ninette R. Wilson of Santa Ana, district president and Mrs. Fraser called on visiting state

LOOK 'PRETTY... PLEASE' IN THRIFTY MARIAN MARTIN HOUSEFROCK

DIVORCEE'S DAUGHTER

By VIVIAN RADCLIFFE

(Copyright, 1937, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Janice Flagg, daughter of Ogden Flagg, millionaire, has been estranged from him by her mother, divorced from Flagg. After her mother's death, there is a reconciliation, but Janice refuses to accept the protection of his home and money, and sets out to make her own way. Wynde Greene, playboy, falls in love with her but, when she discovers that he will not marry her unless she claims some of her father's millions, she rejects him, and later hears that he has turned his attentions to her spoiled debonair sister, Ivonne. She falls in love with Peter Hathaway, young professor, but he is indeed a girl. When he goes to the Moonlight mountain to prospect for gold with one of his students, Hugh Parker, she follows him and stakes a claim near his. At first, he is only friendly but, at last, one night, she kisses him and tells her he loves her.

CHAPTER XXVII

PETER had kissed her! They had sat in the moonlight and talked of love. Peter had admitted he loved her, though he didn't want to love any woman — yet. Peter loved her! But he had said nothing of marriage. Casually, he had spoken of when she would be leaving the mountains and he would be returning to Illinois, as though their love would make no change in the pattern of their lives.

How delightful! Jan assured them, "Ivonne will stay here with me, and I'm sure Peter will put you boys up at his camp."

Wynde studied her with open admiration. She knew he wanted to talk with her alone, but was determined to put off the ordeal as long as possible.

"Have to work for your board," Peter stated flatly. "No work, no grub."

Jan flashed him an approving glance.

"That's right," she agreed. "Everyone works here. Wynde will love watching the ruffles for slugs, and Brad!" — she looked at him appraisingly — "probably Brad can gather firewood, or maybe shoot a few rabbits or — can you hit a bird on the wing?"

Ill at ease, Brad announced arrogantly that he most certainly could, and Jan, though a little skeptical, nodded her approval.

"And Ivonne?" asked Wynde.

"Ivonne can help me pan," Jan stated flatly.

Her sister looked at her with the same expression that her mother had had when things were not going as she wished, but Jan ignored the look. Ignoring dissatisfaction would be the way to handle this spoiled, ease-loving sister who had always lived in the luxury of her father's home.

"Ivonne pan gold? That gives me a laugh. Why, Janice, she wouldn't sell her pretty hands," Wynde exclaimed.

As he reached the edge of the clearing, Rex bounded back, followed by a lovely girl with golden hair.

"Down, Rex, down!" she protested as he whirled to jump up on her in his excitement.

He whirled again and rushed to Jan, who had leaped to her feet in astonishment.

"Why, Ivonne!" she exclaimed.

"Hello, Jan. What a heck of a place to be in!" Ivonne replied.

Reception Is Given For Freshmen

Several hundred freshmen students last night gathered in the colorfully-decorated Veteran's hall for the annual faculty reception honoring new students at Santa Ana Junior college. Formal gowns worn by the hostesses and guests added to the graceful motif of the evening.

Calvin C. Flint, dean at the junior college, was general chairman, assisted by Miss Agnes Todd Miller in charge of punch and Miss Lillian Dickson and Ernest Crozier Phillips arranging decorations.

Snappy days are here again — days when it is fun for the cook to heat her oven and bake biscuits, pies, cookies and other good things that fill her kitchen with appetizing odors.

COFFEE CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon soda
3/4 cup dark brown sugar
1/4 cup softened butter
1 egg, well beaten
1/2 cup sour milk
1/2 cup hot coffee

Measure the flour and resift with salt, baking powder and soda. Mix the sugar with the dry ingredients. Cut in the shortening, then add the beaten egg combined with the milk. Beat until the mixture is blended and add the coffee. Pour into a greased square baking pan. Bake in a hot oven about 20 minutes and spread the top with brown sugar, cinnamon and butter mixed together. Bake 10 minutes longer. Cut in squares and serve with plenty of butter.

DUTCH PEACH CAKE

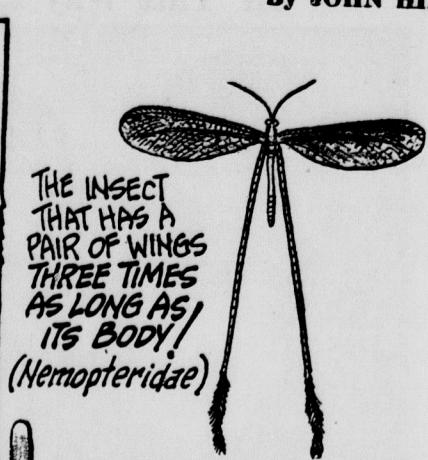

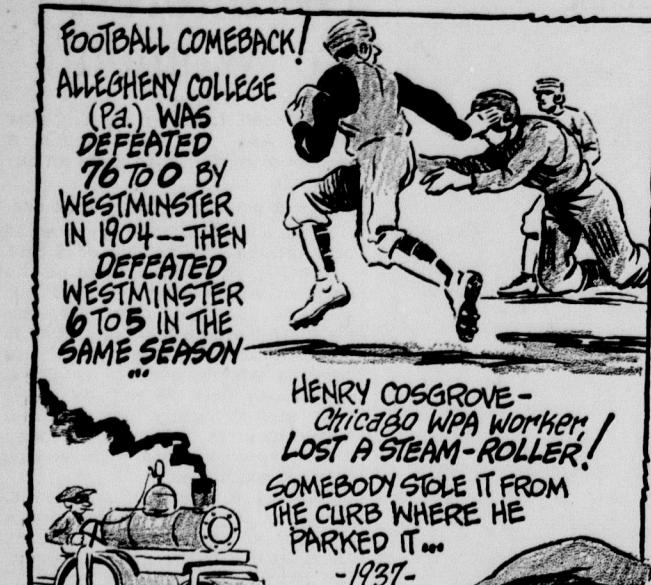

1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, combination type
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar
4 tablespoons melted butter
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup milk

Combine the ingredients and mix lightly. Pour into a greased shallow pan. Arrange peach slices over the top of the cake, pressing down slightly so they will stay in place when the cake is baked. Mix together 1/2 cup brown sugar, packed, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon or allspice. Spread this over the peaches. Bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve with whipped cream, lemon sauce.

America And Foreign Wars

President Roosevelt will get national backing in his new foreign policy against aggressor nations, so long as the American people believe that such a policy will keep us out of war.

Invoking of the neutrality pact against Japan and China, approval of the League of Nations' efforts to keep peace and the efforts of various treaty signatories probably will work in this direction.

But America is rightfully suspicious of any international step that might involve the use of our military power on foreign soil.

Just 20 years ago we committed the great blunder of fighting a "war to end all wars." Look at the miserable condition of the world today and judge its great failure.

We do not want to repeat that tremendous and costly blunder.

As the international situation now stands, America holds the "balance of power."

If the United States helps China oppose Japan, Japan cannot win its major objective.

If the United States helps France and Britain oppose Italy and Germany, the purposes of Italy and Germany in Spain and elsewhere would be blocked.

Almost any current or conceivable war problem around the world could be swung one way or the other by the intervention of this nation.

No one knows this better than the war-makers, and that is why they are jockeying for a more favorable position under the sun.

The people of the United States, we believe, have just about made up their minds that the only way we can win is to stay clear of the squabbles of others.

Once involved, no matter which of the sides win, we lose. The World was proved that.

Scientists say England faces a shortage of brides. We thought it was only in kings.

Part of the Political Show

The political follies of 1940 are in rehearsal and this hulla-ba-boo about Justice Hugo Black is just a sample of what to expect when the curtain really rings up for the coming presidential campaign.

Administration political enemies are throwing every vegetable they can grab at the new Alabama justice, and one after another the other main lights of the New Deal will be subjected to a similar bombardment as their turn comes before the footlights.

Another unofficial preview will take place early next month in New York when two strong men, Fiorella La Guardia and Jerry Mahoney, battle it out in the center of the ring for mayorship.

One ardent anti-administrationite, Sen. Dr. Royal S. Copeland, fell off the stage at the beginning of that rehearsal. And Al Smith, the sure-fire comedian from the Bowery, tried out on the tight-rope and learned that his famous "walk" in the last Follies had upset his balance.

James Farley, press agent for the Roosevelt show, declares his act is bigger and better than ever and will be more popular with the public.

So as not to pass up the consolation department, we think it's only fair to mention that John D. M. Hamilton, too, claims his act will steal the show in 1940.

As the barrage of brickbats and bouquets whizzes by, don't fall out of your seat.

Remember, it's the rehearsal for the big show in 1940 and a lot of the things that are being said and done about big national figures come under the head of politics—like so much of this criticism of Justice Black.

Fannie Hurst says this is a troubled world. Noveltists are smart, and always discover things like that.

We're Hoping for the Best

At long last the city council finally has worked its way around to setting a date for an election on civil service in the police and fire departments and for a park.

There is not much doubt as to how Santa Ana will go on the civil service idea, since practically 60 per cent of the registered voters here signed a petition favoring it, and the $1000, or whatever it is the election will cost, might just as well have been saved for something that is necessary.

But as the park proposition has not yet been placed in coherent form (the council plans to meet next Monday night to try to decide what it wants to do), we are keeping our fingers crossed until we find out if something constructive and practical is in mind or if it's just another wild-haired idea.

Meanwhile, The Journal joins every civic-minded citizen in hoping that the council brings forth an intelligent park plan that will merit community support when the important date of Nov. 16 rolls around.

Winter is just around the corner—the vacant corner where the boys play football.

Just Like a Groundhog

Folks in Wall Street are doing a lot of guessing and speculating these days on the subject of just what is the matter with the stock market.

One thinks it's the latest state department statement on neutrality. Another thinks it's because cotton may be declared "munitions" and barred from export. One says the trouble lies with the President.

Wall Street is and always has been very much like the groundhog of legendary fame—always seeing its shadow and running back into its hole for six weeks.

Like the groundhog, Wall Street probably will come out of its hole in a few weeks, when everything is rosy.

Editor of an anti-Stalin paper in Russia has disappeared and they can't find out into what cemetery.

FAIR Enough

Hugo Black and Willie Hearst
By Westbrook Pegler

It is my guess that the Ku Klux issue will soon die down merely because it takes two to make an argument, and Hugo and the President are smart enough to see that if they keep still the opposition will have to start repeating. Moreover, the opposition will be talking to itself. After awhile the public will get tired of the repetition of a consistently sour note and, out of annoyance, if for no other reason, will say something to the general effect of "Oh, dry up about the Klan."

It seems probable also, that the three elements of the population which were singled out for discrimination and other dirty treatment by the organization to which Hugo gave an oath, will have nothing to fear at his hands as a justice of the supreme court. He is sitting pretty in a well-paid, permanent job, safe from reprisals by his old comrades in the sacred, unflinching bonds of Klannishness, and that security is by no means the least attraction to a politician of his type.

HEAT TURNED

If Hugo could have won election to the senate in the first place without joining up, he probably would have held aloof. It seems so from his radio oration. And, on his record, it appears that as soon as the heat was off back there in the '20s and the Klan no longer was in a position to yank him around by the mouth, he permitted himself to take up normal association with those late unmentionables who came within his professional and social zone.

So we have for assurance on this score the fact that he is now independent of the Klan's anger and the wrath of all the carbon copies of that organization which are now springing up around the country, plus an apparent lack of serious personal religious and racial intolerance, plus one thing more. Another assurance is the fact that, although he did not denounce but merely renounced the Klan, he did denounce with considerable emphasis the selling points by which the Klan was peddles to native-born, white Protestants.

NEVER WAVERED

He could have been less slippery, but after all, there is something to chew on in the paragraph where he said: "At no meeting of any organization, social, political or fraternal, have I ever indicated the slightest departure from my steadfast faith in the unfettered right of every American to follow his conscience in matters of religion. I have no sympathy with any organization or group which anywhere or at any time arrogates to itself the un-American power to interfere in the slightest degree with complete religious freedom. No words have ever been or will ever be spoken by me, directly or indirectly, indicating that any native or foreign-born person in our free country should or could be restricted in his right to worship according to the dictates of his conscience."

Against the truth or honesty of these statements his Klan oath must be considered. If he never had any sympathy and so forth, why did he join the Klan, and if the Klan wasn't opposed to racial and religious tolerance, why did he quit it? Nevertheless, one consideration taken with another gives a feeling that on these matters Hugo will try to be decent from now on.

As to his fitness otherwise to serve on the big court the doubts are more lively. You have to form an opinion of his honesty by his conduct during the confirmation farrus and by remembering that, for cheap political advancement, he took an oath to an outfit dedicated to propositions which he now declares that he always has abhorred.

RECKLESS

You have to bear in mind, too, that, like the President himself, he has been reckless in his harassment of people whom he was determined to get or at least determined to humiliate. There are other rights besides those of religious and racial freedom for which people sometimes must appeal to the supreme court, and Hugo may not be very fastidious in his regard for those rights if they seem to obstruct the measures for which he has been selected as yes-man. As to those there is no assurance beyond his general oath and his conscience.

Anyway, the wheel has come a full turn, hasn't it? For years, Hearst invaded the private affairs of unfortunate private citizens, printing their diaries and letters. Then Hugo started fumbling through Hearst's private correspondence, and Hearst yelled bloody murder, while Hugo chortled. And finally, a Hearst paper once removed dug up the record of Hugo's Klannishness and he, in his turn, squawked about a concerted campaign to fan the flames of prejudice.

People of Orange county will get a chance to express their wishes on the character of improvement to be made in Newport harbor, according to a letter from Lieut. C. H. McKinstry of the U. WASHINGTON—Admiral Sutherland has cabled that 1000 blue-jackets debarked from the United States warships now are moving on Leon, the remaining stronghold of the Nicaraguan rebels. The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is not the rule. If public opinion is active, the politicians and the public up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent or otherwise, our problems are immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and be heard, the formation of public opinion is a definite need.

A PARK NEEDED

To the Editor: During the past summer I was fortunate enough to spend two months in Santa Ana, and found it to be in most ways an admirable little city. But there is one important thing sadly lacking in that commonwealth, and that is an adequate park. Of course you have Birch park for which I have the greatest admiration as a perfect little beauty spot, but there is nothing in the way of a park with recreational facilities for young people and children. For an example you have to look no further than your neighboring community, Anaheim, which has a splendid park of the sort that Santa Ana sadly needs.
